DRYS PLANNING A PRESIDENTIAL TICKET

A. F. OF L. FAVORS GOVERNMENT OWN- ERSHIP OF R. R.

RESOLUTION TO THAT EFFECT
ADOPTED BY AN OVERWHELM-ING MAJORITY

ADOPTION OF THE RESOLUTION WAS A COMPLETE DEFEAT
FOR PRESIDENT GOMPERS

RALPH COUCH,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Montreal, June 17—Government ownership and democratic operation of railroads was denuded in a resolution passed today by the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The language of the resolution was the language of the Plumb plan laque, although the league was not specifically mentioned.

The vote was 29,059 to 8,349. It came at the end of a two days' battle
—the bitterest which has ever torn organized labor in years.

The resolution was a complete defeat for Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the organization. It is regarded as the only real setback Gompers has ever received in years.

Cheers shook the convention hall
when the vote was announced.

Miners and railroad workers combined to bring about Gompers' defeat.
Gompers fought hard to kill the resolution. He took the floor just before the vote. He received no applause.

Gompers warned that under government ownership two million railroad workers would become government employees. Government employees, he said, were deprived of many political and economic rights under Presidents Cleveland, Roosevelt and Taft.

Among those who fought Gompers were Secretary Morrison, Secretary
Wm. Green of the miners, President
W. H. Johnson of the International Machinist unions, and Delegate James Franklin of the Boilermakers union.

The Gompers faction early in the fight, raised the cry of "socialization of American industries." They made it clear that they favored government control but were opposed to government ownership.

PREUS-MOELLER IN THE COURTS

St. Paul, June 17—George Moeller, former state legislator charged with criminal libel by Henry Preus, brother of J. A. O. Preus, republican candidate for governor, pleaded not guilty in police court today. A jury trial was set for the morning of July 14.

The motion grew out of circulation of a pamphlet issued by Moeller, entitled "The War Record of J. A. O.
Preus." In this he referred to Henry Preus. "In this he referred to Henry service "so as to keep away from the firing line." Preus declared he was in the navy during the war and not the Y. M. C. A. service. Moeller is supporting Thomas Frankson for governor.

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET IN HEAD

Chicago, June 17—The body of a soldier believed to be Cecil Towers,
a private in Battery B, 78th Field Artillery, was found today on the bank of Rock river near Camp Grant, with a bullet wound in his head.

Police believe he killed himself, and first thought he was the murderer of Mrs. Maude Moss, shot to death Tuesday night. Later they declared he had nothing to do with the slaying.

PREDICTION ON DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

Los Angeles, June 17—Governor Cox, of Ohio, Wm. McAdoo and Attorney General Palmer, "will not be far apart" on the first ballot of the democratic national convention in San Francisco, Norman Mack, democratic national committeeman from New York, said here today. Mack passed through here in company with H.
Moore, one of Cox's campaign managers, enroute to San Francisco.

ROY S. M'ELWEE

Roy S. MacElwee, nominated by the president as director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has an admirable background for the job.
He was born in Michigan, raised in Indiana, and educated in Europe. He has been associated with American firms in Berlin, Hamburg and Paris, was later a lecturer in Columbia university, and during the war specialized in army transportation and port development work.

BULL MOOSERS AND CONSERVATIVES

MOVEMENT UNDER WAY TO UNITE THEM SOLIDLY TO SUPPORT
CANDIDACY OF HARDING

RAYMOND CLAPPER,
(Staff Correspondent United Press.)

Washington, June 17—A movement to unite solidly behind the presidential candidacy of Senator Warren G.
Harding, the former Bull Moosers as well as the most conservative republicans, was under way today.

The decision to start such a movement was apparently reached by Harding himself, and is the first important one of his presidential campaign.

Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, who was active in the Bull Moose movement in 1912, has been assigned the job of winning the activities following suggestion of the program.

"I think you will find that progress will be united behind Harding," Brown said today.

"PARTY WANTS A DRY PLANK AND A DRY TICKET," SAID HINSHAW

Chairman of Prohibition National Committee Makes Claim that the Republicans Have Ducked the Issue—Interpretation of Platform Clause

Harding and Cox do Not Please Him—McAdoo Not Satisfactory Unless He Has Another Dry on the Ticket and an Air-Tight Dry Plank in the Platform

Chicago, June 17—The prohibition party, disappointed at the nomination of Senator Warren G. Harding by the republicans and the alleged rebuffs given its representatives at the G. O. P. national convention, are planning a presidential ticket, Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, declared today. Little hope is held that the democrats will put up a hundred per cent. prohibition ticket, said Hinshaw.

"We want something more than a candidate, we want a dry plank and dry ticket," said Hinshaw.

"The republican dry leaders have ducked the issue," said he.

A telegram was dispatched today to United States Senator Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the republican resolutions committee, asking an interpretation of a clause in the platform which, Hinshaw said, placed the G. O. P. on record "to repeal the arrogant challenge of any class not to maintain government by all the people instead of by some of the people."

The dries believe this clause was aimed at them.

Senator Harding will not be accepted by the prohibitionists, said Hinshaw. A statement explaining its refusal to support Senator Harding probably will be made within a few days.

The same objection to Harding will apply to Governor Cox, of Ohio, whether he is nominated for the first or second place on the democratic ticket, Wm. G. McAdoo has the endorsement of the dries but they said that they would not take him unless he has another dry on his ticket and an "air tight" dry plank in his platform.

GRAIN CONGESTION BEING RELIEVED

St. Paul, June 17—Grain congestion in Minnesota is being rapidly relieved, according to reports today.

"This is due to the fact that railroads are complying with requests of the commission to furnish empty cars to take grain out of storage and prepare the warehouses for receipt of this year's crop.

BRYAN GIVES VIEW OF WHAT THE PLAT- FORM SHOULD BE

JAIL PROFITEERS, NO LIGHT
BEER AND WINES, ARE FUN-DAMENTALS SAYS BRYAN

(By United Press)

Aberdeen, S. D., June 17—Wm. Jennings Bryan, democratic leader, enroute to the democratic convention at San Francisco, spoke briefly here last night on the subject of fundamentals.

Touching upon the wet and dry issue he stated emphatically that prohibition had come to stay and efforts of any liquor group or political party to restore manufacture of light wine and beer in this country would be unavailing.

Regarding the democratic platform to be adopted at the San Francisco convention, Bryan said:

"The democratic party should include in their platform a plank calling for the jailing of all profiteers."

Another high light in the speech was the statement that "We are the only nation in the world which knows how to get into war and don't know how to get out of it."

NASH OUSTER CASE POSTPONED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 17—Hearing of ouster proceedings against Wm. Nash, suspended Hennepin county attorney, was postponed again today by Governor Burnquist. Counsel for Nash asked the governor to postpone further hearing of the liquor smuggling charges against Nash until after the trial in federal court June 22. The governor reserved the right for decision as to when hearing should be resumed.

DECLINES TO DISCUSS ANY ISSUE

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 17—Senator Warren G. Harding declines to discuss any issue until he makes his formal acceptance speech in July.

This was contained in a telegram received by Virgil Hinshaw, national prohibition chairman, today in reply to a request for the republican nominees stand on the liquor question.
The telegram from Harding was signed by George B. Christian, Jr., his secretary.

STICKERS MAY BE USED TO ELECT

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 17—The death of C.
W. Bouck at Royalton June 4 left a vacancy on the election ticket for representative at large from Morrison and Crow Wing counties, which can not be filled by a petition. Attorney General C. L. Hilton was today asked for ruling on the matter by County Attorney Rosenmeier of Morrison county. Stickers may be used by friends who are desirous of having their favorites elected.

WARNS AGAINST GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

SAMUEL GOMPERS IS AGAINST ENDORSEMENT OF SUCH OWN-ERSHIP AND OPERATION OF RAILROADS

RALPH COUCH,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Montreal, June 17—President Samuel Gompers took the floor at the American Federation of Labor convention here today to warn against endorsement of government ownership and operation of railroads.

Gompers cited acts of Presidents Cleveland, Roosevelt and Taft, who all declared government employees are prohibited from exercising any political and industrial rights.

"All railroad workers will become government employees," said Gompers.

"No man is more loyal to the republic of the United States than I,
and yet I would not give it more power over citizenship of Americans than it now has," said Gompers.

Secretary Morrison took the floor in support of a resolution which most of the delegates assumed would be in endorsement of the Plumb plan.

He was followed by Charles Mc-Gowan of the Boilermakers' Union.
The measure before the convention was the report of the minority in resolutions committee which late yesterday recommended government "control." Control is the plan of President Gompers.

Friends of Gompers
yesterday attacked the minority report on the ground that it represented socialization of all American industries.

The fight for the minority report presenting the Plumb plan was waged by a coalition of delegates in the railroads and the rail job trades. They claimed 16,428 votes or nearly a majority.

St. Paul, June 17—The state auditor's office today reported $639,371

us. State Treasurer Henry Rines today announced a total of $1,039,927.62 had been spent by the bonus board.

lar police of Porto Rico, who is visiting large American cities, making a may reorganize the Porto Rican force.

STUDENT CHARGED WITH MURDER

(United Press)

Hanover, N. H., June 17—Robert T.
Meads was held here today without bail, charged with first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Henry Maroney, a senior from Medford, Mass.

On telegraphic advice from the father, Albert A. Meads, prominent attorney in Chicago, the accused man waived examination and pleaded not guilty. The elder Meads was reported enroute here to defend his son.

CENSUS FIGURES

(By United Press)

Washington, June 17—The census bureau today announced the following population figures:

Lansing, Mich., 57,327, an increase of 26,098, or 82.6 per cent.
Great Falls, Mont., 24,121, an increase of 10,173, or 72.9 per cent.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY INVESTIGAT- ING LYNCHING

WILL ALSO CONSIDER THE AS-SAULT CHARGE AGAINST THE NEGROES—MANY WITNESSES

(United Press)

Duluth, Minn., June 17—County Attorney Warren E. Green convened a special grand jury to probe the lynching of three negroes Tuesday night, shortly before noon today. The first witnesses were expected to be called this afternoon.

Green announced the original case against sixteen negroes charged with assaulting a young white girl, will be presented to the same grand jury. The assault on the girl resulted in the wreck of the police station and the hanging of three negroes by a mob estimated at more than five thousand persons.

Green said a large number of witnesses will be called to testify in the lynching investigations. Police officers who defended the police station against the invasion of the mob will be first, he said. Green said no charges of neglect or dereliction of duty had been made against any police so far as he knew.

Submission of evidence against the lynchers is expected to take several days. He said he could not estimate the number of witnesses that would be called. He did not attempt to estimate the number of indictments that may be asked of the grand jury, he said.

Force Safety Commission to Resign.

W. F. Marian, public safety commissioner, who is said to have ordered the police not to use firearms in defending the police station against the mob of lynchers, was attacked by a member of the Commercial club today and a movement started to force his resignation. The director of the Commercial club declared an investigation by proper authorities of the "competency and efficiency" of the Duluth police force in the light of their failure to maintain order and prevent the lynching, was necessary.

The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs also passed resolutions demanding the arrest and punishment of the lynchers.
Warning of threatened lawlessness received by the sheriff and police yesterday, failed to materialize. A double guard has been placed around the county jail where fourteen negroes are held for assault of the young white girl.

A street carnival in Superior has discharged all negroes employed and all were driven out of town.

A few detachments of the state militia remain here ready for action.

HOLD NEGROES AT ST. PAUL FOR AT- TEMPTED KIDNAPPING

(United Press)

St. Paul, June 17—Police today were said to be holding six negroes here in connection with an attempt to kidnap
a three year old girl on the west side
last night.

Officials refused to discuss the case, apparently fearing violence. The negroes are believed to have come from Duluth following the lynching of three colored men there Tuesday night after an assault upon a young girl.

ST. PAUL OFFICER SHOT BY ROBBERS

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 17—Patrolman Joseph Heaton, 28, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded, by two men early today when he attempted to arrest them as they broke into a fur store.

Heaton ordered the men to halt.
One drew a revolver. Heaton fired and missed. The robbers fired two times at Heaton, both shots taking effect. Police later arrested two men in connection with the shooting, who gave their names as Charles Adams and W. Esch. They are held without charges pending the outcome of Heaton's wounds.

Smith today asked railroad officials and commercial bodies of New York to combine their efforts to obtain early action from the switchmen's strike and obtain priority movement of coal and coal cars.

Miss Paul said suffragettes will picket Harding during his speech accepting the republican nomination. The woman's party will send a delegation to the democratic national convention, Miss Paul said, "but there will be no picketing."

In lyceum work the envoy was a success. The last few years have been spent more especially in the interest of the Salvation Army under whose auspices he is now working. The proceeds of the concert will go to help finance the local branch of the Salvation Army.

Admission to concert 50 cents, tickets are being sold by Ensign O. W. Knapp. If you fail to get a ticket, cash out at the door. You'll never miss the fifty cents once Jeffery starts to sing.

O'Brien-Smith

Miss Mabel O'Brien, oldest daughter of Con O'Brien, was married Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock to Ezra R. Smith, at the parsonage of St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney officiating. The wedding was quiet and simple.

The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit, with blue turban and wore a pretty corsage bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Juel O'Brien, who wore a blue suit. The best man was A. A. Gieret.

The newlyweds will spend their honeymoon at the lakes and will be at home after July 1 at 620 North Fourth street.

The bride is a graduate of the Brainerd high school and a charming girl and social favorite. The bridegroom is a graduate of the law department of the University of Minnesota and a member of the real estate firm of Smith Brothers.

The Dispatch joins their many friends in extending best wishes for their continued happiness and prosperity.

CHARMING PARASOL IN SILK

This parasol is fashioned in white silk and marked in gay contrast by clusters of roses. The ivory handle adds much to the beauty of the parasol.

Almost Incredible

In Bombay there is a fakir who spends all the hours of daylight of every day suspended head downward. Two fiber ropes attached to the hub of a tree constitute his support. Early every morning he takes hold of the handles at the ends of the two ropes, reverses the natural position of the body, and hangs there till sunset. He has been doing this now for three years.

Genuine Polish

Some people are glib; their harsh, ungainly manners cut out whatever is good in their own character. Some people are glib; a very brilliant exterior they present, but the first brush and hard using rubs off the gilding and reveals of bare metal beneath. A third class is polished. The polish indeed is on the multifarious crosses of human life, the more it is rubbed the brighter it grows.

SWEET SEVENTEEN

By RITA SULLIVAN.

"Peggy, the way you act you'd think that you were six instead of sixteen." The reproving voice of her older brother aroused Peggy from her absorbing task of fitting together the parts of a picture puzzle.

"Raymond, I'm seventeen! I guess you forget!" was her indignant answer.

"Well, I do wish that you would act like it, then. What would Dick think of you if he saw you now?"

Her brother spoke with all the dignity and "man of the world" air which he had acquired a short time previous when he had fully realized that he had the right to vote.

Dick was a former schoolmate of Raymond's, and from the first he had been Peggy's champion when she was just a little schoolgirl with golden curls and short tresses. Now that she was older, their friendship was fast becoming stronger.

"Oh, he wouldn't care, Ray Hardy; he's used to it, and—"

"Now, listen here, Peggy! What would you say if I told you that Dick is getting tired of your childish ways. Why, only the other day—well, I shan't say any more. But really, Peggy, when will you ever grow up?"

Peggy was made speechless by the suggestion that Dick was getting tired of her.

For the rest of that day Peggy was very mysteriously busy in her room, and even her mother was cautioned not to enter; and that evening, with smiling eyes, she again surveyed herself in the mirror.

"Oh, you are perfect!" she told herself frankly in the mirror. "I'd never know you if I met you on the street!"

With a sudden impulse that the thought suggested she started toward her desk and caught up the telephone.

"Oh, mother that—O-o-o." Her voice trailed away as a plan entered her mischievous head, for the calendar showed that the day was April 1.

With a happy little laugh, she caught up the receiver and impatiently waited for her number.

"Why didn't I think of it before, it's such a corking idea!"

"Oh! Hello, Dick. Listen. Never mind coming all the way up to the house after me tonight. I'll meet you down at the station. Why? Oh, never mind; I'll tell you tonight. Yes, yes, I'll be on time. Bye."

During the evening meal Peggy was so quiet her brother cast suspicious glances in her direction.

"She's up to something—wonder what it is?" and then the matter entirely slipped his mind until, just as she rose from the table, she calmly told her mother that she was going to meet Dick down at the station, as it was too much for him to come all the way up.

A few minutes later a puzzled young man, comparing his watch with the station clock and finding that they agreed, decided that, in spite of her promise to be on time, Peggy was late.

"Who was that little Jane over there who looked at me so queerly? Looked rather familiar to me," was his thought, as Peggy passed by on the other side of the walk, and he turned to watch the door where she was due to arrive.

Congratulating herself on the success of her little joke, Peggy had retraced her steps and was approaching Dick when a surprising thing happened. Dick had started forward with both hands outstretched to meet a pretty girl who had come up to him with a little exclamation of surprise and pleasure, and, startled, Peggy watched the warm greeting which passed between the two.

She watched from there while Dick talked to the girl, and repeatedly—guiltily Peggy thought—watched the door.

On reaching home she entered the sitting room, for she had decided that she would "face the music" then and there.

To her surprise Dick was there—and the girl! Then, as no one spoke she remembered that she was still in the same attire which had so completely fooled Dick.

"Oh, it's only I—Peggy," she exclaimed, throwing her veil back impatiently.

"Why, Peg," came her brother's voice. "I'd never know you! You look stunning."

"That must have been you that passed me when I—oh, I see—" As the full significance of the thought struck him Dick knew what the trouble with Peggy was, and crossed the room to her side.

"Oh, Peggy," pretending not to notice her icy demeanor toward him. "You've never met my cousin, Vera, have you?"

Peggy's mother suddenly decided that she wanted Dick's cousin to see some pictures, and the two left the room unnoticed. A few minutes later Ray awoke to the fact that his presence was not needed any longer, but before he left the room he could not resist one parting comment:

"Well, I wonder which one the April Fool was on anyway."

But Peggy only smiled, for she heard her mother talking to Vera in the next room, and her mother was saying:

"This picture was taken before, Peggy was 'grown up.'"

With a little laugh she, too, wondered—though briefly—whom the joke was on after all, but quickly concluded that she didn't care anyway!

BILL FOR FARMER MAY BE PASSED

IT AUTHORIZES FORMATION OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE MARKETING.

DIVIDENDS TO BE LIMITED

Secretary of Agriculture Given Power to Keep These Organizations From Exploiting the Public—House Committee Favors Measure.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The house committee on the judiciary has recommended the passage of a bill to authorize the producers of agricultural products to form associations for the purpose of collectively preparing for market and marketing their products. Section 1 defines and limits the kind of associations to which the legislation applies. These limitations are aimed to exclude from the benefits of this legislation all but actual farmers and all associations not operated for the mutual help of their members as such producers. Unless each member has but one vote in his association, irrespective of the amount he may have invested as capital therein, the association must not pay a dividend of more than 8 per cent per annum. This limitation of 8 per cent is designed to compel payment to the members of as large a part of the proceeds derived from the sale of their products as possible, instead of paying it as a dividend upon the money used as capital. A number of farm associations oppose the payment of any dividend on capital, while others insist that they need a capital and must have the privilege of paying dividends.

Eight per cent was fixed for the reason that in many places money cannot be borrowed at a less rate, and that hence a less rate would prevent some of these associations from obtaining the necessary funds to carry on their business. The aim has been to make the provisions of the bill sufficiently liberal so that all co-operative farm associations operated in good faith for the benefit of members might avail themselves of the provisions of the bill. The bill does not, however, compel the association to change its present organization nor does it create any new organizations. Associations will be formed under state laws as heretofore.

Protection for the Public.

Section 2 makes applicable to these associations in a modified form the provisions of the Clayton act. Briefly, it gives the secretary of agriculture power to prevent these associations from exploiting the public. In the event that any association should refuse to comply with the order of the secretary, a suit may be brought in the appropriate district court to enforce his order. The farmers say they are not asking a chance to oppress the public, but insist that they should be given a fair opportunity to meet business conditions as they exist—a condition that is very unfair under the present law.

The judiciary committee says that whenever a farmer seeks to sell his products he meets in the market place the representatives of vast aggregations of organized capital that largely determine the price of his products. Personally he has very little if anything to say about the price. If he seeks to associate himself with his neighbors for the purpose of collectively negotiating for a fair price he is threatened with prosecution. Many of the corporations with which he is compelled to deal are each composed of from 30,000 to 40,000 members. These members collectively do business as one person. The officers of the corporation act as agents of these members. This bill, if it becomes a law, will allow farmers to form like associations, the officers of which will act as agents for their members.

Not Class Legislation.

The committee also says that while this bill confers on farmers certain privileges, it cannot properly be said to be class legislation, says the committee. "Business corporations have under existing law all the powers and privileges sought to be conferred on farm organizations by this bill. Instead of granting a class privilege, it aims to equalize existing privileges by changing the law applicable to the ordinary business corporations so the farmers can take advantage of it. Instead of granting to farmers a special privilege, it aims to take from the business corporations a special privilege by conferring a like privilege on farm organizations."

New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and a number of other states have granted the right to form associations such as those contemplated in this bill. But these states cannot confer any right upon their organizations to engage in interstate or foreign commerce. This bill is designed to grant that right. Associations of this kind are common in European countries and have been in operation for many years. Their effect, it is asserted, has not been to raise prices to the consumer. In many instances the effect has been the reverse. They have tended to prevent much of the gambling in foodstuffs and to eliminate many of the useless middlemen that stand between the producers, the retailers and the consumers.

SULPHUR DRIES UP PIMPLES AND RASH

Says Sulphur is Quickest to Clean Up An Ugly Skin

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.

WHY LUMBER IS HIGH

The almost prohibitive cost of lumber is leading a once indifferent public to take an interest in forestry problems. There is a demonstrable reason for the high price of building lumber, quite aside from the general causes of price-elevation.

The government forestry service reports that three-fifths of the original timber of the United States is gone, and that we are now using timber four times as fast as we are growing it. There is nothing in this situation to indicate anything else than steadily mounting prices unless the nation either stops using timber faster than it is grown, or starts growing it as fast as it is used.

The virgin forests of this country have shrunk to one-sixth of their original area. Of the forest land cut over, so much has been devastated unnecessarily by wasteful logging and burning that it has become a hopeless waste. The area thus ruined is a great as the combined forests of Germany, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal—practically of all western Europe. It may be remarked that that same western Europe, which we are accustomed to regard as so much less intelligent and progressive than our own country, would never have allowed such cut-over land to go to waste. For every tree taken out of a European forest as a general rule, another tree is made to grow.

Forest depletion is only half the sad story. The other half is that as the forests are mowed down, the remaining supply withdraws farther and farther from the great community centers using timber, so that to the higher prices resulting from scarcity must be added steadily increasing transportation expenses. The East is almost timberless now. New York, once the leading state in lumber production, produces only 10 per cent of its timber consumption. Pennsylvania, whose name itself is reminiscent of its former forests, hardly produces enough lumber for the Pittsburgh district.

This is the situation confronting the nation, at a time when it needs more timber for building purposes and paper pulp than ever before.

We cannot stop using lumber, for either building or paper, and so the only remedy is to increase production. The old forests, as a rule, cannot be restored, for much of their area is now given to agriculture and grazing. The sensible thing is to utilize in every section the land naturally adapted to forest-growing.

COST OF INJURY
TO THE WORKERS

COMMISSIONER OF LABOR STATISTICS INQUIRING INTO INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS.

FACTS DIFFICULT TO REACH

Only About One-Third of States Make Reports and There is No Standardization of Necessary Statistics in the Returns.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The commissioner of labor statistics has recently been trying to ascertain the cost of industrial accidents in the United States. He has found it no easy task. The federal government does not know how many industrial accidents occur in any state in the Union. It knows even less of the nature, results and social cost of these accidents. Only five states—California, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana and New Jersey—report compensation payments separately for fatal and non-fatal cases and for medical treatment, and burial for the years 1916 to 1918, inclusive. Michigan reported these costs for the year 1916 and then quit, Nebraska for 1917 and 1918, and the United States Employees' Compensation commission for 1918. Oklahoma and Wisconsin show for the three years, 1916-1918, the total money compensation and the medical and burial benefits. Hawaii, New York and Vermont published this information for 1918: Texas for 1916 and 1918; Massachusetts for 1916 and 1917; Iowa for 1917 and 1918, and South Dakota for 1918. Ohio and Nevada have published the total amounts paid for compensation and burial for 1916-1918; Connecticut for 1916 and 1917; Pennsylvania for 1916; Colorado for 1917 and 1918; Indiana for 1917; Kentucky and Wyoming for 1918.

Seventeen jurisdictions have thus far published for the year 1918 the total amounts paid for all compensation, including medical benefits. The years cover different months. Some are calendar years, some fiscal years, and some compensation years determined by the date when the compensation laws became operative. The total amount of all compensation as reported by these 17 jurisdictions was $16,782,610. The total estimated number of workers included therein was nearly 11,000,000 and the total estimated number, entitled to come under the acts was 5,360,000. If we assume that 5,000,000 workers were actually brought under the acts, the compensation payments would amount to a yearly charge of $3.36 per employee.

Average Is Useless.

The utter uselessness of this average of a whole series of averages is shown by bringing it into contrast with the average cost of $4.85 per employee for Ohio, $4.39 for California, and $1.72 for New Jersey. These widely different costs bear no readily ascertainable relationship to the actual costs of accidents in these different states. The real cost of accidents in Ohio is not of course two and one-half times their cost in New Jersey. The differences are due to differences in industries covered, waiting period, amount of compensation provided, maximum and minimum limits, and other differences in the acts and the administration of them.

The bureau calls attention to the fact that compensation payments are increasing year by year in all the states which have published figures which enable us to make comparisons. However, it is not ready to believe that the accident severity rate has grown worse since 1912, when the safety movement became fully organized. It believes individual plants and great corporations comprising many plants have reduced their accident rates, both frequency and severity rates. It believes that the growing compensation bill, the universal experience in all states, is due to extending the coverage of the laws, liberalizing the compensation provided, cutting down the waiting period, better and more enlightened administration methods and practices, and the growing knowledge of the workers as to their rights under the laws.

Unemployment Most Costly.

Of course, the economic cost of industrial accidents was enormously greater before compensation laws were enacted. As to unemployment, the most costly and the only purely industrial and occupational accident, the government has no reliable record whatever. A man may break his arm by falling over a cuspider in his home; he may be killed by any food driving an automobile. Everything in the way of a physical injury that can occur to him while working at his regular occupation can happen to him in his home, on the street, at church, any place he may be. But the only way he can become unemployed is to lose his job. Nonindustrial physical injury accidents are probably as numerous as and even more destructive than industrial physical injury accidents. There is no such thing as nonindustrial unemployment. It is therefore the only purely industrial hazard.

There are two very distinct kinds of unemployment—what the government calls out-of-work unemployment and unemployment on the job. Both result in material loss to the individual workers and to society and in the demoralization of the worker.

MATCHMAKER

By MYRTA ALICE LITTLE.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Miss Dartha Prentiss was a born matchmaker. She had always lived in a small town and she had made almost everybody's match except her own in the whole vicinity. The only reason that she was still "Miss" was that she had not yet found "exactly the right one, don't you know." Then, too, Miss Dartha was very shy and self-forgetful.

But Miss Prentiss, though not on the sunrise side any more, never wearied of looking about for her young friends, of course, and bringing just the right couples together in her cozy little home under the maples, while she remained in the background in prim gray and lavender and white-frilled aprons and made puffy biscuits and cakes and scalloped potatoes and tea for the younger folks.

When the new high school principal came to town and tried to get board with the little lady, he met with a prompt refusal.

"I've heard a lot about what a quiet, homey place 'twould be and about the cooking I'd get." The man smiled persuasively.

But Miss Dartha flushed and folded her little white hands and assured him that there'd be too much talk if she let him board there, and there was just as nice places, lots of them. But she'd invite him there once in a while with some desirable young ladies he'd enjoy meeting. She would do that, certainly. And why didn't Mr. Randolph try to get in over at Johnson's?

So Hugh Randolph, high school professor, boarded across the street at the Johnsons, and little Miss Dartha promptly began to plan which one of the three Johnson girls he would marry. There was Cora, who sang beautifully, and Nora, who was pretty as a pink, and Lora, who made the most delectable jellies and preserves and puddings.

When Professor Hugh had been in town a week, little Miss Prentiss invited him to have tea with her. And she invited Cora Johnson to come over, too. And she played Cora's accompaniments on the little reed organ, and she joined her with her own alto once in a while, just to show Professor Hugh how sweet and clear and beautiful the young girl's voice was compared with her own funny old quaver.

"He'll notice all this when he's away from Cora's home and environment, with a middle-aged lady around, more," she told herself, as she set the table, and practiced just how she would bring it in nicely that Cora Johnson had the sweetest disposition she had ever known.

The little lady noticed after that that Professor Hugh used to go walking of Monday evenings with Cora.

So Miss Dartha decided it was time that she invited Professor Hugh and Nora over to tea.

And she sat in the full glare of the big lamp so that he would be sure to contrast her tiny wrinkles with Nora's smooth round cheeks.

And after that the professor did stroll about of evenings with Nora. And they often stopped at Miss Dartha's gate and chatted with her about her hollyhock and bachelor buttons. And once the little lady found the courage to offer the professor a blue button with white fringed edges and express the hurried wish that he would find some nice young girl to sew it on for him. Then she had hung her head, fearful that she had said too much. But the man's voice was reassuring.

"I'm looking round, Miss Prentiss," he told her cheerily.

And Miss Dartha sighed expectantly. And about a week after that she had Lora and the professor in for tea and she took especial pains to tell her guests that Lora had given her the recipe for the marshmallow cream. Only Lora had a knack of cooking that she could never get. And Lora blushed prettily. And Miss Dartha went on to say that Lora had sent in the raspberry preserves to her last winter, and she'd been keeping them for such a festive occasion. For she never could equal Lora Johnson in preparing things to eat.

And the professor had looked very happy that evening as he bade Miss Dartha good-night, and the little lady noticed that he bent very close over Lora, as if whispering something of great significance, as they walked down her path together.

So little Miss Prentiss decided that she had done all she could for the present, and she would just wait. Whoever girl Hugh Randolph chose would be the most fortunate, ideally happy with such a husband.

Miss Dartha wound the old clock in the corner and put out the lights. Then she heard a sound on the gravel path, and in another moment she heard a quick, masterful voice in the doorway, telling her things.

"I've just told Lora and I've decided! She is glad, too. The sweet voice like a child's, filled with loving and selfishness. The flowers and the dainty wholesomeness all round. I want to board with you, Miss Dartha. I want you to sew on my buttons, little lady. Pretty as a picture in your gray and white here in the moonlight with that pure white brow! I want to marry you, dear lady. It's you. I love you, little Dartha Prentiss."

And Miss Dartha, trembling, knew that in some strange, beautiful way the right man had found her there in her little home among the maples.

MEAT INJURIOUS
TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like jumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

DRINK HOT WATER
BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

The COUNTRY

(Stage business: Yankee snorts; Westerner grins.) We all know Oklahoma as an oil state, but the truth is that there is a lot more to her than oil. There's agriculture!

Even in the oil boom last year the income of the average Oklahoma farmer—nearly $4000—included only about $200 of oil money. Oklahoma is doing big things in agriculture. In a series of four Country Gentleman articles, all of which you will enjoy if you send me your dollar today, Mr. Pickett tells about them. Every farmer hereabouts will profit by the experience of this great farm state, which pays the most exacting profit taxes. And remember: this series is just one among scores of features covering every farm interest included in a year's subscription for this unique national weekly of helpful farm service. The cost? COMMUNITY PICNIC LUM PARK JUNE 25

Farmers and Business Men Throughout the County to Take Part in the Celebration

PROGRAM OF THE DAY GIVEN

Farmers Clubs to Attend in a Body—Concert, Field Sports and Other Entertainments (Communicated)

The biggest of all community picnics ever attempted is to be held at Lum Park, Brainerd, June 25th, 1920. Farmers and business men throughout the county are going to take part in this all county celebration. Listen to the speakers, orchestra, band and singers. There will be contests between farmers' clubs, farmers and business men and boys and girls. There will be races, water sports and horse shoe contests, something doing every minute from morning till midnight.

Everybody is bringing their picnic lunch for the county picnic at Lum Park. There will be plenty of seats, benches and tables, ice cream, pop, sandwiches and all that makes a real holiday.

The Red Cross will provide tents and shelter and nurses for mothers wishing to leave their babies.

Free dance given all afternoon with many of the old time dances such as square dances, quadrilles, and circle two-steps may be participated in by all. In the evening a regular dance will be given at the pavilion.

Farmers' Clubs throughout the county are coming to take in the picnic in bodies and show what real picnic feeds are enjoyed each month by the Farmers' Clubs.

The merchants and clerks may decide to make it an all community event and also make it their picnic day. Business houses throughout the county are going to close and there will be no life outside of Lum Park, and nothing doing outside of Lum Park, on June 25th.

A list of some of the events to take place are as follows: Speaker, J. M. McConnell, State Commissioner of Education, Chataqua speaker and well known speaker throughout the state and one whom it is well worth going many miles to hear; male quartet, Brainerd band. Races: Boys' sack race under 16, 50 yard dash, girls' potato race, 100 yard hurdle race, girls' spoon and egg race, ten to sixteen, young men and ladies race, fat man's walk, barrel race. Field sports: Broad jump, high jump, putting the shot, tug-of-war, farmers against city men, climbing greased pole.

Water sports: Quarter mile motor boat race, 100 yard row boat race, 100 yard canoe race, 25 yard swimming race, fancy diving exhibition. Horse shoe tournament: Horse shoe players from all over the county are requested to try it at this tournament. There will be a contest between farmers' clubs and between individuals and between farmers' and business men. Players should bring their own shoes with them for best results. There will be a prize for all sports and races to be announced in the program of that day. Prizes will be given for the following: The farmer bringing the largest family to the picnic, the family coming the largest number of miles, the family coming with the oddest vehicle, the farmers' club sending the largest delegation. Meet me at the all community picnic at Lum Park June 25th, 1920.

Every merchant, every professional man, every clerk, every workman, and every farmer.

The time will come when every state will plant and protect trees along highways. At present the enlightened are inclined to look on the more enlightened as faddists or cranks when they insist that no program of public improvement is complete that does not include trees for public roads.

World's Currency.

From official data supplied by the director of the mint the monetary stocks of fifty-six of the principal countries of the world have been estimated in terms of American dollars. The computation shows the money of the world was approximately $59,638,558,000.

WHAT BOOK MOST HELPFUL TO YOU

What book was most helpful to you in attaining success?

The question is asked by the American Library Association, whose Greater New York Executive Committee, of which Raymond B. Fosdick is chairman, has telegraphed scores of prominent men and women in an effort to determine for the "Books for Everybody" movement the one book which was the greatest force back of the success of these persons, leaders in commerce, finance, politics, literature, the church, school and stage.

What books inspired the boy Edison to do great things? What one work of literature spurred Woodrow Wilson to the desire for world leadership in peace? What volume stirred Belasco's creative mind to stage beauty. What tome told "Babe" Ruth that wooden fences around ball parks are not necessarily barriers to the ambitious pill pusher?

This, the A. L. A. believes, will greatly assist public libraries to aid embryonic Edisons, Wilsons, Belascos and Ruths. The one book which kindled the flame of ambition in these great men—this is what the A. L. A. seeks to know in guiding the younger generation and the newer Americans from other lands toward proper reading.

A prominent author and journalist said recently at a gathering of churchmen that the Bible is the world's best business book. It has a record of salesmanship unequalled, he said. Answers to its query will disclose the books which have been the greatest factors in America's culture and advancement, the American Library Association believes and that through this inquiry the reading of better books can be encouraged. The A. L. A. will announce the opinions of prominent men and women.

NO GAME IN CITY OR OUT SUNDAY

Condition of Koering Field Minus Fencing and Water Soaked Canceled Cancellation of Games

CAN'T PLAY IN A DUCK PASS

Team at Financial Loss in Having Players Without a Game and Public Incensed Too

Due to condition of grounds at the Koering field which comes nearer being a duck pass than a baseball field and also because of great gaps in the fencing, the Brainerd Baseball Club was compelled to cancel games Sunday and had no opportunity to pick up an outside game.

The fence crashed down in the heavy wind storm of Tuesday, June 8, and it was only recently that a move was made to replace it. The grounds have been in such shape as to prohibit practice on the field. The club has paid to have the diamond kept in shape, but it can hardly be expected to keep the whole Koering field drained.

ORGANIZED LABOR WILL SUPPORT DIBELL

St. Paul, Minn., June 16—Organized labor in the principal cities is rallying to the support of Judge Homer B. Dibell, who is a candidate for re-election to the Supreme Court of Minnesota.

"Judge Dibell's record is highly satisfactory from a labor standpoint," said a prominent local labor leader today.

"As trial judge in the district court Judge Dibell played an important part in modifying, and in some instances entirely abrogating, the rules of negligence and assumption of risk in master and servant cases under the old law of employers' liability.

"He habitually refused to take such cases from the jury, a custom long followed by our courts. As a result injured workmen were given such a square deal as they never had before."

W. E. McEwan, of Duluth, former labor commissioner and for thirteen years secretary of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor is strongly supporting the candidacy of Judge Dibell.

N. P. SHOP PICNIC AT DETROIT SAT.

Committee Announces Completion of Arrangements for Holding the Big Annual Event

SECURE TWO SPECIAL TRAINS

Schedule of Auto Charges, Lake Trips Given—Sports Program—Bring Your Own Sugar

Arrangements have been perfected for the annual Northern Pacific shop employees picnic at Detroit Saturday, June 19. Two trains have been provided for the picnicers. The first section leaves the Brainerd depot at 6 a. m. sharp and will have ten coaches and a baggage car. The second section leaves at 7 a. m. sharp and will have the same equipment.

The Brainerd Municipal band of 24 pieces under the leadership of Wm. F. Palmer, will accompany the picnic party. They will give a short concert before the first train leaves.

One stop will be made on the run at Staples. The trains are expected to make the run to Detroit in three hours. Concessions on both trains have been awarded to Louis Hohman.

The Blue Ribbon orchestra will play at the dance given in Detroit. There will be free dancing for those holding picnic train tickets, being a dollar per couple or family.

Arrangements have been made to check picnic baskets and baby carriages in the baggage car. At Detroit the entire dancing pavilion at the lake, located a mile from the depot, has been turned over to the picnicers. There will be autos from depot to lake, adults 25c each and children two for a quarter. Very small children free.

The program of sports starts in the afternoon and the sport prizes will be announced before the races. The prizes are the best kind of merchandise donated by public spirited Brainerd and Detroit business men. The committee while soliciting did not receive a single refusal in Brainerd and is deeply indebted to the loyal Brainerd business men for their co-operation in the program.

All the row boats that could possibly be engaged have been secured at 50c an hour and include fishing tackle and bait. Without tackle and bait the charge will be 25c an hour. Canoes will be 50c an hour straight. Rides on the large launches are 25c each. Launches holding six people will cost $1.25 per hour, holding eight people will be $1.50 per hour, ten to twelve people $2 per hour.

Coffee and lunches can be procured at the pavilion. Picnickers are asked to bring their own sugar.

The Detroit City band will give a concert in the evening. On the return trip the first section leaves at 7 P. M. sharp and the second section at 8 P. M. sharp, and but one stop will be made, that at Staples. The equipment is the best ever furnished by the company, being long, eight-wheel coaches, and riding fine.

The attendance expected is 2,000 or more. A light rain in Brainerd should not deter the picnicers as Detroit, almost a hundred miles away, will be having different weather.

The general chairman is Major J. F. Elkins. His committee associates are: G. J. Kroes, secretary; P. M. Bislar, treasurer; Christian Bruhn, finance; J. J. Roney, printing; J. J. Murphy, transportation; Lloyd Jones, grounds; Roland Jenkins, sports; John Mankowski, music and dance.

Train tickets can be procured from committeemen. The committee is anxious to make a record by having the largest attendance at the picnic in the history of the shops, coupled also with the best time imaginable and everybody as near satisfied as possible. Everything has been done that was possible to secure the most comfort, convenience, enjoyment and recreation at this picnic.

RED CROSS IS TO HAVE MUSEUM

PERMANENT MEMORIAL TO ALL WORKERS OF THE WORLD WAR OPENED IN CAPITAL.

WHOLE HISTORY PRESENTED

Exhibits Range From Relics of United States Sanitary Commission of Civil War to Models of Famous Canteens in France.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The American Red Cross has opened a museum in connection with its headquarters here. It is to be a permanent memorial to all Red Cross workers of the world war, and is designed to represent graphically the whole history of the national Red Cross. This intention is being gradually realized. Through the cooperation of Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler, one of the devoted workers of the Civil war, there has been obtained an interesting collection of relics of the United States sanitary commission, the precursor of the national Red Cross. These relics include the flag flown over the Rhode Island headquarters of the sanitary commission, and the famous doll, Rose Percy, which raised so many thousands of dollars for the wounded in the Civil war, as well as for the wounded in the world war.

Many shipments of material have arrived from Europe to illustrate the type of work which the Red Cross carried on in foreign countries during the world war. One exhibit embraces articles made by allied prisoners of war in the prison camps of Germany. The American Red Cross provided the material and paid the men for their work, so that they might be able to obtain extra food and comforts. This work helped many a prisoner to keep up his courage during the months of captivity.

Work of the Disabled.

Another interesting collection is that of articles made by the blind and disabled. Men with only one arm are able to manufacture real works of art. Agricultural workers who lost their legs in the war have discovered that they have real, artistic ability and have rejoined the army of wage earners as draftsmen, sign painters, toy makers, jewelry designers, and so on. Specimens of the work of the blind show how easily the sense of touch can be developed, and how kind Mother Nature seeks to compensate her sons for the loss of one sense by quickening the others.

Another exhibit deserves special mention—that of the work of the juniors of the American Red Cross. Here are shown examples of the 30,000 chairs and tables which the school boys of America have made for the devastated homes in Europe, and of the bedside tables, lamps, and canes for the use of the wounded in the hospitals of our own country. The work of the school girls of America is also represented in the specimens of garments and quilts which they made for the ragged and penniless refugees in Europe. Then there are toys and scrapbooks for the children who have forgotten how to play. The whole exhibit shows clearly how the juniors, who are performing countless deeds of service that bring happiness to others, are acquiring practical ideals of citizenship through such service.

Models of Famous Canteens.

One of the chief features of the museum will be the miniature models of Red Cross activities, some of which are already completed and others planned or under construction. One which has lately been installed is the first emergency canteen opened by the American Red Cross for the refugees returning to the devastated regions in France. In the foreground lies the little village of Vaux, on the main road about three miles from Chateau Thierry. In their attack on Paris in May, 1918, the German front line ran through this village.

It was captured by the Ninth and Twenty-third Infantry of the second division, on July 10, 1918, after the first all-American barrage. Back of the town rises the famous Hill 204, which was captured after a bitter struggle on July 19. Beyond it one sees the valley of the Marne, with the town of Chateau Thierry on its banks, and the bridge held by the Seventh machine-gun battalion. To the left one sees Belleau Wood, where the Fifth and Sixth Marines made their historic attack. In the foreground of the village, to the left, is the shattered house where the American Red Cross opened its emergency canteen on August 1, 1918. Groups of refugees are seen being served with food and coffee by canteen workers in uniform. Some of the real stone lying on the ground, the branches of the trees, and the earth in this model have been actually brought from the village of Vaux.

Another model, shortly to be installed, represents the famous Tent City in Paris, known to every doughboy in France who obtained leave of absence to visit the great city. Here, beds and food were daily provided for 1,500 men on leave. It is not intended that the museum shall be merely a record of past events, and therefore, it is being planned to have timely exhibits illustrating the forward movements of the Red Cross in health and community service.

CUSSING IS BARRED

Profanity on the baseball fields will not be tolerated in the American association this season, President Hickey told his staff of umpires at a conference preliminary to the opening of the season. The umpires were instructed to order any player or manager off the field at the first offense and to report subsequent violations to President Hickey.

BASEBALL STORIES

Young men who can play baseball are wanted in the marines.

Bill Killefer continues to turn back the would-be base stealers.

Manager George Stallings shipped outfielder Dixie Carroll back to Memphis.

Ball players no longer jump to outlaw leagues. They jump into overalls at $1.20 an hour.

Young Dick Loftis, released by Cincinnati to Evansville, says he will be back in the big show.

Boston has limited Sunday ball games to 6 p. m., probably as a protection for Sunday night beans.

Young Ben Allen, the Mint league recruit, seems to be doing pretty well as a third baseman for Mobile.

John Dobbs has a versatile team of Pelicans. No less than six of them can play more than one position.

Portland holds the record for opening day crowds in the Coast league with a paid attendance of 16,126.

Whitely Hensling will be field manager and captain of the Okmulgee team of the Western association.

Jimmy McAuley and Beals Becker are in partnership in running a billiard and pool room at Lemoore, Cal.

Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn team has sent Pitcher Paul Schreiber to Lakeland of the Florida league.

Little Charley Fulton is a valuable pitcher to have around. He pitched a shutout for Mobile the opening day.

Manuel Cueto is in bad with the Seattle management through his refusal to answer letters or telegrams.

Johnny McCarthy, purchased from Columbus, has given the Birmingham club final notice that he will not report.

Arthur Devlin, coaching Fordham college, is said to have a wonderful young pitcher in a lad named Culleton.

Bert Coy has come back to baseball and signed to play the outfield for the Wichita club of the Western league.

The veteran William (Ducky) Holmes will own and manage an independent team at Brownville, Neb., this season.

Glenon is more confident than ever that the club that beats out the White Sox will win the American league pennant.

Pitcher Wain Noyes, late of the Athletics and White Sox, has cast his lot with one of the clubs in the Idaho outlaw league.

Charley Deal takes things so easy no matter how hard the chance, it looks as though he never makes any difficult fielding plays.

Pittsburgh is supposed to be the dark horse in the National league race. Quite natural. Look at the town they come from.

Connie Mack is described as deeply thoughtful, but not despondent. His youngsters have not, it is admitted, come as fast as he hoped for.

Otto Koepping, second baseman of the Moline Three-I league team, has quit organized ball and joined an independent crew in Sterling, Neb.

Bill Hinchman and Manager Gibson occupy the spotlight when the Pirates are at bat. They station themselves at first and third base respectively.

The veteran Neal Bell will play with the New Haven Eastern league team this season and act as assistant and field captain for Manager Chief Bender.

Hunter Hill as manager of the Galveston team will make the umpires grope, says one critic, but it will mean more life in baseball for Galveston.

After seeing Carlisle Smith perform at third base for Vernon in the series at San Francisco, a Frisco baseball scribe says: Meusel will soon be forgotten.

Fred "Bugs" Hersche, who twirled for the Toronto Internationals for the last two years, is the latest acquisition to Jake Pitter's pitching staff of the All City (Pa.) Independents.

Lawyers Once Denied Leadership. Popular confidence in the lawyer has swung from one extreme to the other since early colonial times, according to Francis M. Mordick, in "The Lawyer's Place in American Life." Thus, in 1643, Virginia forbade lawyers to take fees. Massachusetts closed the lawyers' membership in the "Great and General Court" of the province in 1635, and when the earl of Shaftesbury and John Locke formulated the fundamental constitution of the Carolinas they prohibited lawyers from practicing for fees of any sort. No lawyer of distinction appeared in the Carolinas while that constitution was in force.
